	No: Claims	1,2,5,6,7,8,10
Inventive step (IS)	Yes: Claims
	No: Claims	3,4,9,11

	No: Claims

2. Citations and explanations (Rule 70.7):

see separate sheet

Re Item V

Reasoned statement with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability;
citations and explanations supporting such statement

Reference is made to the following document:

D1: US-A-4 485 577

D2: ES-A-2 194 564

D3: US-A-5 308 205

The document D3 was not cited in the international search report. A copy of the document is appended hereto.

Some of the features of claim 6 do not characterise the subject matter claimed, which is a protective cover, because they are only clear as required by Art. 6 PCT in combination with a certain sporting rifle. Note that a combination of sporting rifle and cover is not claimed.

Therefore the subject matter of claim 1 is a protective cover, having predetermined dimensions, and comprising means for fixing.

Some features of the dependent claims and in particular all the features of claim 2 are disregarded, because they are not clear for the same reasons.

D1 discloses a protective cover with predetermined dimensions, having means (O-ring 43 in figure 4) for fixing the cover. The surface is smooth and can bear graphic information.

D3 (figure 1,2) discloses a protective cover (12), having predetermined dimensions and means for fixing the cover (20). It further discloses the additional features of claims 5, 6, 7, 8 and 10.

Hence, the present application does not meet the criteria of Article 33(1) PCT, because the subject-matter of claims 1, 6, 7, 8 and 10 is not new in the sense of Article 33(2) PCT.

INTERNATIONAL PRELIMINARY REPORT ON PATENTABILITY
(SEPARATE SHEET)

International application No.

PCT/ES2004/000434

The present application does furthermore not meet the criteria of Article 33(1) PCT, because the subject-matter of claim 1 does not involve an inventive step in the sense of Article 33(3) PCT.

Starting from D3, for a skilled person, it would be obvious in view of general knowledge to provide two or more projections on a cover, depending on the area to be covered (claims 4 and 9).

The form of the cover is also a matter of normal design procedure for the skilled person which does not involve any inventive activity.

Fixing a cover by means of adhesive is also not inventive in view of general knowledge.

The aim of the invention is to provide an aesthetic design and protection against dirt.

Also starting from D2, cited by the applicant, a combination with D3 would not involve any inventive activity, because protective covers are general common knowledge in every field of industry.
